

What is Payment Privilege?

Payment Privilege is a discretionary overdraft service requiring no action on your part that provides you a safety net up to an automatically assigned overdraft limit.

Your Payment Privilege limit may be available for checks and other transactions made using your checking account number or automatic bill payment and recurring debit card payment. Also, at your request, we may authorize and pay ATM transfers or withdrawals and everyday debit card purchases using your limit.

What does my Payment Privilege cost?

There is no additional cost associated with this privilege unless you use it. You will be charged our overdraft per item paid fee of $30 for each overdrawn item created by a traditional paper-based check, a teller withdrawal, an automatic payment (ACH) transaction, or a recurring debit card payment. Also, if you have requested us to do so, we may authorize and cover ATM transfers or withdrawals and everyday debit card purchases. For example, three paid items in one day will result in a total of $90 in overdraft fees for that day. To help you manage your account, the total fees you have paid for items (both paid and returned) during the current month and for the year-to-date will be reflected on your monthly checking statement.

How does Payment Privilege work?

As long as you maintain your account in “good standing,” we may approve your overdraft items within your current available Payment Privilege limit as a non-contractual courtesy.

For overdraft privilege consideration, your account is in “good standing” if you (1) make sufficient deposits to bring your account to a positive end-of-day balance at least once every 30 calendar days (including the payment of all credit union fees and charges); (2) avoid excessive overdrafts suggesting the use of Payment Privilege as a continuing line of credit; (3) Not being in default on any loan or other obligation with St. Mary’s Bank; and (4) there are no legal orders, levies or liens against your account.

Please note that the amount of the overdraft plus our overdraft per item paid fee of $30 will be deducted from your overdraft limit. If the item is returned, the overdraft per item return fee of $30 will be deducted from your account. No interest will be charged on the overdraft balance.

Please refer to the member overdraft policy for additional details.

How do I know when I use the overdraft limit?

You will receive an overdraft notice each time items are paid, including fees. You will need to subtract the total fees when balancing your checkbook.

What is my Payment Privilege limit? If I have two checking accounts, can I get Payment Privilege on both?

What if I go beyond my Payment Privilege limit?

Overdrafts above and beyond your established Payment Privilege limit may result in checks or other items being returned to the payee. The overdraft per item return fee of $30 will be charged per item and assessed to your account. A non-sufficient funds notice will be sent to notify you of items paid and/or returned.

How quickly must I repay my Payment Privilege?

You should make every attempt to bring your account to a positive end-of-day balance as soon as possible, and must do so within 30 calendar days. If you are not able to do so, you will receive a letter from St. Mary’s Bank informing you that your Payment Privilege limit has been suspended and additional items will be returned.

St. Mary's Bank Member Overdraft Policy

It is the policy of St. Mary's Bank to comply with all applicable laws and regulations and to conduct business in accordance with applicable safety and soundness standards. The Deposit Agreement and Disclosure which is within the Information Concerning Your Personal Accounts brochure provided to you at the time you opened your account with us controls the duties obligations and rights of the Depositor, the Authorized Signatories and St. Mary's Bank with regard to your account and shall control any possible conflict with any provisions of this Member Overdraft Policy.

An insufficient balance can result from several events, such as (1) the payment of checks, electronic funds transfers or other withdrawal requests; (2) payments authorized by you; (3) the return of unpaid items deposited by you; (4) credit union service charges; or (5) the deposit of items which, according to the credit union's Funds Availability Policy, are treated as not yet available or finally paid. We are not obligated to pay any item presented for payment if your account does not contain sufficient funds.

As long as you maintain your account in "good standing," we may approve your overdraft items within your current available Payment Privilege limit as a non-contractual courtesy. For overdraft privilege consideration, your account is in "good standing" if you (1) make sufficient deposits to bring your account to a positive end-of-day balance at least once every 30 calendar days (including the payment of all credit union fees and charges); (2) avoid excessive overdrafts suggesting the use of Payment Privilege as a continuing line of credit; (3) Not being in default on any loan or other obligation with St. Mary's Bank; and (4) there are no legal orders, levies or liens against your account.

In the normal course of business, we generally pay electronic transactions first and then checks low to high amount, per the credit union's policy. We reserve the right to change the order of payment without notice to you if we suspect fraud or possible illegal activity affecting your account. Also, please be aware that the order of item payment may create multiple overdraft items during a single banking day for which you will be charged our overdraft per item paid fee of $30 (fees capped at 5 items per day).

You may opt out of the privilege at any time, but you are responsible for any overdrawn balances at the time of opting out. Normally, we will not approve an overdraft for you in excess of the predetermined amount assigned to your account type. So as not to exceed your limit, please note that the amount of the overdraft plus the credit union's overdraft per item paid fee of $30 will be deducted from the overdraft limit.

We may refuse to pay an overdraft item at any time even though we may have previously paid overdrafts for you. For example, we typically do not pay overdraft items if your account is not in good standing as defined above, or if based upon our review of your account management, we determine that you have too many overdrafts or are using Payment Privilege as a regular line of credit. You will be charged an overdraft per item returned fee of $30 for each item returned.

You will be notified by mail of any non-sufficient funds items paid or returned that you may have; however, we have no obligation to notify you before we pay or return any item. The amount of any overdraft including our overdraft per item paid fee of $30 and/or a overdraft per item returned fee of $30 that you owe us shall be due and payable upon demand, but if no demand is made, no later than 30 calendar days after the creation of the overdraft. If there is an overdraft on an account with more than one owner on the signature card, each owner and agent, if applicable, shall be jointly and severally liable for all overdrafts inclusive of fees.

Payment Privilege should not be viewed as an encouragement to overdraw your account. To avoid fees, we encourage you to keep track of your account balance by entering all items in your check register, reconcile your check book regularly, and manage your finances responsibly. If you would like to have this service removed from your account, please call 1-888-786-2791.

Please note that your Payment Privilege limit may be available for covering overdrafts created at the teller window, ATM, through a POS transaction, Online Banking and Telephone Banking. Also, at your request, we may authorize and pay ATM transfers or withdrawals and everyday debit card purchases using your limit. The limit will not be included in the balance provided during an inquiry.

LIMITATIONS: Payment Privilege is a non-contractual courtesy that is available to individually/jointly owned accounts in good standing for personal or household use. St. Mary's Bank reserves the right to limit participation to one account per household and to suspend, revoke, or discontinue this service without prior notice.
